Lead Belt News.

Mr. C. L. Satterfield, formerly a resident of the lead belt, but who for the past nine years has been engaged in farming and teaching school in Reynolds county, is visiting relatives in the lead belt this week. He is well known in this district having formerly been mayor of Elvins and also served several terms on the school board at that place. He informed us that the lack of rain this winter has worked havoc among the farmers, the prospect for the wheat crop being practically ruined. Mr. Satterfield also informed us that lead and copper was being found in paying quantities in Reynolds county. While here he will make an effort to interest some of the mining companies in this district in drilling for mineral in that county.

Obituary

The death of William Edward Statler of Gravel Hill, which occurred February 3, 1917, was a great shock to his many relatives and friends, as well as a loss to church and community.

He was born near Sedgewickville December 11, 1882, died at the age of 34 years, 1 month and 22 days. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Statler and was reared near Sedgewickville.

He professed faith in Christ and united with the M. E. Church, South, when about 20 years of age and lived a true and noble Christian.

He leaves a wife, whom he married last October a year ago, father, mother, two sisters, four brothers besides a host of relatives and friends to mourn his departure and await the call.

We sorrow not as the hopeless. Let us look for the city which hath a foundation whose maker and builder is God. We cannot forget

His cheerfulness and his pleasant smiles.

He was a friend to all and a great friend in time of need, always ready to lend a helping hand and a good church worker and in our belief he has just passed over the river to be with other loved ones gone before.

The funeral services were conducted by the Lutheran pastor, Rev. C. C. Lyerly, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives, after which the body was laid to rest in the Sedgewickville cemetery. May his ashes rest in peace until the resurrection morn.

A promise one from us is gone.

A voice we loved is still.

A place is vacant in our home.

Which never can be filled.

In that happy land we hope to meet him.

With him and loved ones gone before.

And again, with joy, we hope to greet him.

There where parting is no more.

His Relatives.

A Walt Mason Lyric

I do not wish to buy your book,

Oh, agent at the door. I do not need a shepherd's crook, nor sally to hunt a hare. And if I did, I'd lie me down along the village street

and buy of men who boost the town,

pay taxes and repeat. I took a ride

the other day in my new paste-

board car, and saw along the right-of-way men toiling near and far.

They're building up a thoroughfare

in which we take much pride, and soon, like streaks of lightning, there our motor cars will glide. They're grading down the steeper hills, and bridging creeks and draws; and who is paying up the bills? Who is the Santa Claus? The agent from some patent unknown, the smiling gent

like you, was never known to cough

a bone to put such projects thru.

The local business men must bear such burdens on their backs, they pay for bridge and thoroughfare

when they dig up their tax. And so when I am needing prunes, the merchants of this grade will get me

hard-earned paynemes, you bet

your bid, my lad. So, to the place from which you came, oh, agent smooth, return. I do not need your patent quilling frame, nor patent duplex churn—Walt Mason.
